

Spring After School Program 2012

February-May 2012

This Spring, with the help of 16 St. Paul's high school volunteers and 8 Bridges High School volunteers, the Bridges after school program offered once a week tutoring to 31 Bridges fourth and fifth grade students. This was the first time that Bridges high school students have served as after school tutors. Volunteers combined for over 375 hours of service during the program.

Alex helps Keshawn with a writing assignment during their Wednesday session.

Fourth grader, Blair, sends the ball flying in a round of kickball.

The Thursday after school group is busy discussing Diary of a Wimpy Kid: The Ugly Truth.

Mike watches over Christopher during his writing homework.

Kashiya, a Bridges high school student, helps Amira with her work.