

Weekend Mentoring Helps Bridges Freshmen Assess Grades and Prepare for Summer Jobs

December 1, 2012

On December 1, the ninth grade and their weekend mentors met at the Junior League office near York and Northern Parkway to reflect on first quarter academics and prepare for summer job interviews in January. Victoria Brown and Ariel Sklar led the first quarter reflection, which helped students identify academic strengths and weaknesses, and ways to improve performance in the second quarter. Following the academic workshop, students and mentors engaged in mock job interviews to prepare for summer job interview day coming up in January.

The group gathers for a quick icebreaker to start the morning.

Mentor Maureen conducts a mock interview with Ayana.

Bridges staff member, Victoria Brown, explains the report card activity.

Mentor Andrew conducts a mock interview with students Dejah and Ja'lah.