

Tenth Grade Students and Mentors Explore Sagamore Farm

October 19, 2013

On Saturday, October 19, Bridges tenth grade students and mentors visited Sagamore Farm with Sagamore GM Tom Mullikin. The visit started with a farm tour where participants interacted with horses and learned Sagamore's history of raising them to win racing championships. Afterwards, the group ate lunch, reviewed their grades, set goals for the school year, and engaged in a time management workshop.

The group is shown a unique synthetic training surface which includes pieces of recycled Under Armour shirts.

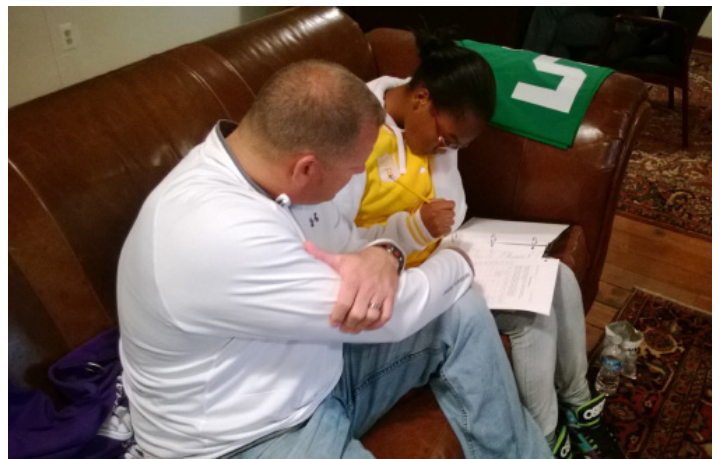

Matthew is surprised by a suddenly nosy horse.

Sagamore Farm General Manager Tom Mullikin talks about naming horses while a few brave students pet a filly.

The group stands on a unique feature of Sagamore Farm: a quarter-mile long indoor training track.

Mentor John works with Kayla to lay out her daily schedule and determine how she could more efficiently use her time.
