

Bridges Welcomes its Third Class of Weekend Mentors

December 3, 2011

On Saturday, December 3, Bridges welcomed its third class of weekend mentors. The six mentors in this year's class – Kevin and Angie Hall, Wally and Jillian Pinkard, and Marcy and George Sparks - spent the morning bonding with the Bridges sixth grade with activities that ranged from dodgeball and sharks n minnows, to 30 seconds on the hot seat and brain quest.

Mentor Marcy plays a get to know you game – 30 seconds on the hot seat – with students Imonie and Jasmine.

The day starts with a Bridges favorite - the alliteration name game.

Mentor Jillian getting to know Bridges sixth graders Kwayera and Jared.

Following the name game, students and mentors participate in an intense game of sharks n minnows.

The day's activities conclude with a 10-round game of brainquest.
